ABOUT BLACKWOOD HOMES AND CARE

Blackwood is a leading housing and care provider, specialising in services for people with disabilities across Scotland. Founded in 1972 by Dr Margaret Blackwood, the organisation is entirely focused on creating personalised and individual solutions to help people live fully and independently.

With over 550 employees, 1500 properties, 3 care homes and over 10,000 hours per week in care at home services across Scotland, Blackwood operates in 29 out of 32 local authorities. We provide homes, care and support for adults with physical disabilities, long term conditions, sensory impairment and learning disabilities. We also provide care services to older people who require additional support to enable them to live in their own homes.

Blackwood's teams are friendly, committed, motivated and trained to the highest level, which ensures the best possible outcomes are achieved for our customers.

Blackwood's local bases in Stirling, Glasgow, Aberdeen, Dundee, Ayr, and Edinburgh facilitate a unique and streamlined housing and care service. Being closer to our customers ensures we are in the best position to support people at a personal level and enable them to live their life to the full.

We have accessible and modern bespoke housing aimed at providing great value for people with a range of disability and housing needs, and our ongoing investment programmes aim to ensure that existing homes are upgraded to meet statutory obligations and customers' priorities.

Our Care Inspectorate grades have been consistently very good and excellent, and we are determined to maintain this high standard of care.

OUR VISION, AIMS AND VALUES

Our Strategic Plan contains two main themes, supported by nine strategic aims:

1. To provide value and quality for customers
2. To invest in innovation

Blackwood has four core values to ensure everything we do as an organisation and as individuals demonstrates integrity and accountability:

Taking Responsibility

Open and Honest

Keeping our Promises

Respect and Understanding

BLACKWOOD NEIGHBOURHOODS FOR INDEPENDENT LIVING - ABOUT THE PROJECT

The 'Blackwood Neighbourhoods for Independent Living' project (BNIL) is a 3-year project focusing on the challenge of helping people live for 5 more productive years by:

- Designing homes which support residents to age in place
- Sustaining physical activity
- Managing common complaints of ageing through creation of affordable products and services to improve self-reported health and wellbeing
- Supporting social connections by reducing isolation through gamification
- Creating healthy and active places

Blackwood successfully completed Stage 1 of the project, which was primarily about engagement with local people and industry partners to:

- Understand and baseline the issues and barriers people face in healthy ageing locally and nationally.
- Co-Design and co-create solutions and programmes to these issues and barriers.
- Identify and understand target markets for these solutions with industry partners.
- Begin to develop plans to enter these markets at scale and pace.
- Develop plans to deliver the solutions including our own and partner's capacity.
- Baseline our evaluation data and develop our Theory of Change.

Stage 2 of this project has an overall value of £12m supported by grant of £6m. Blackwood is the lead partner with a range of academic and industry partners.

The project work will centre in three demonstrator neighbourhoods, in Charleston (Dundee), Cardonald (Glasgow), and Buckie (Moray), providing urban, semi-urban and semi-rural comparators. Collaborating with residents, local authorities, health providers, industry, and academia, the multi-disciplinary project promotes ground-breaking house design across tenures, retrofitting existing homes, embedding digital empowerment and health and wellbeing self-management. We aim to impact over 3000 people during the project and many multiples beyond its life.

Our key solutions will include the delivery of:

The Blackwood House	Beautiful, affordable, accessible and connected homes that adapt as citizens age and live independently.
The Blackwood Design Guide	A co-designed guide, enabling individuals and housing organisations to adapt existing homes, supporting people as they age and setting new standards of accessibility.
My Digital Hub	A 'virtual me' in my 'virtual neighbourhood' in a 'virtual world' where citizens can play out their aspirations as they age, through gamification, setting goals, tracking progress and staying motivated with support of others. A leader-board will compare progress and offer rewards as the project expands to the wider world.
CleverCogs™	A tablet-based app, customisable, safe, intuitive digital system. Designed to support citizens by providing them with a range of services and information linked to their health and wellbeing goals.
AI Smart meter monitoring	Monitoring of energy usage to establish patterns of behaviour that may predict when intervention is required to prevent crisis.
Value Exchange	A system designed to encourage and reward citizens to take an active role in their own health and wellbeing as well as supporting others.

Blackwood will facilitate engagement and co-design, learn in an agile way, position and adapt products and services in response, and sponsor an independent living movement where #ImIn means that people can invest, be inspired, be 'in the know' about their health, and come together with their community.

Iteration will continue throughout the project as we test, adapt and evaluate the model. By exploiting expertise and innovation from different industry sectors and healthcare providers as well as citizens with lived experience, we aim to achieve significant social, economic and fiscal impact on the challenges of healthy ageing.

Blackwood is uniquely positioned to lead the demonstrators given our investment and thought leadership on independent living. We know that communities beyond Scotland and the UK face the same challenges, and would welcome community-based solutions, driven by changing demographics and by the potential of integrating technologies which support new products and services.

Can you help Scotland be the best place to live a healthier and longer life?

We are looking for inspiring people who can help design Scotland's neighbourhoods for healthy ageing. Co-designing with the local community and engaging with great partners, Blackwood aims to test and measure what supports people to live healthier and active lives as they age. With the help of technology, and insight from residents, this is a cutting-edge ambitious programme to help Scotland be the best place to live life to the full.

Our exciting partnership programme in three areas of Scotland focuses on five important healthy ageing challenges:

- Designing and adapting age friendly homes that are accessible, affordable, beautiful and connected.
- Sustaining physical activities by providing local people with a range of activities and fun as they exercise and engage with others.
- Managing common issues of ageing as we offer people products and services to age well, feeling safe and secure in their neighbourhoods, so they can live independently.
- Supporting social connections by helping people be confident online and offering more choice and control through technology as they connect with others.
- Creating healthy and active places so that people help design their neighbourhood as a welcoming, accessible and beautiful place to live.

The three locations are:

- Dundee (Charleston)
- Glasgow (Cardonald)
- Moray (Buckie)

It will be working with the latest in technological solutions, the highest standard of accessibility, and with industry and academic partners. Here are just some of the products you'll help develop.

- THE BLACKWOOD HOUSE
Beautiful, affordable, accessible and connected homes that adapt as people age to support independent living.
- CLEVERCROSS™
A tablet-based, customizable, safe, intuitive digital system designed to support people by providing them with a range of services and information linked to their health and well-being goals.
- AI SMART METER MONITORING
Using artificial intelligence to help predict when people may need help e.g. 'booster' get out of bed by 10am and the person is always up between 8 and 8.15.
- DIGITAL HUB
Using a fun game experience to encourage and connect with others, the hub will set lifestyle goals and celebrate progress in residents' online community.

Our exciting partnership programme will use the new products and services to test and measure neighbourhood connections with rewards. Our programme will engage with local communities, with your help, to assess sign what will give people those five more healthy, active years.

Unique opportunity to make a real difference in how we live life. If you have the curiosity, the desire to make a difference in lives in Scotland, and can contribute your expertise to our programme read on.
